

Press Release

C.W. Brabender welcomes KWATech, LLC. as exclusive Sales Agent

South Hackensack, NJ, April 29, 2015— Kevin Alexander, Founder of KwaTech, LLC, becomes an exclusive Chemical Division Sales Agent for CW Brabender® Instruments, Inc. in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Arkansas.

Kevin Alexander is a seasoned industry professional with almost 20 years of experience in the plastics industry. He graduated with a B.S. in Chemical Engineering from the Univ. of Oklahoma in 1996. Since then he has worked with specialty thermoplastics and biopolymers while working at companies such as Chevron Phillips Chemical, BASF, & Green Dot Holdings. He has served in numerous roles including research and development, product development, technical sales, and business management. In 2015, Kevin founded KwaTech LLC. His company provides lab equipment solutions in the chemical and plastics industry. He and his family live near Houston, TX where he is an active member in the South Texas Section of the Society of Plastic Engineers.

ABOUT C.W. Brabender® Instruments, Inc.

C.W. Brabender® Instruments, Inc. is a leading manufacturer of instrumentation designed for testing the physical properties and quality of various materials utilized within the polymer and food industries. Our extensive product line is utilized for sample preparation, R&D, evaluation, quality control, and new product development and production environments.